While Dr. Donlin was examining Jerry Ehman, employed in the factory, in "The" Allen's wound in the saloon, fifteen minutes after the row, Carraro lay on the floor, his head against the cast wall. He was also terribbly burned about the hands and face. nearly insensible and perfectly helpicss.

All around the two bruised and bleeding combatants shood the gang that infests "The" Allen's dive, and every man scemed to be telling his neighbor how he had done his share to pounding the swarthy fellow. "I broke a bottle on him," said one. " And

I gave him a kick in the ribs," said another. A third boasted that he had smashed a cuspidor over the finitan's head, and each of twenty men claimed the credit for killing the

"guinea."
To-day, however, the toughs that make the place their stamping ground, declared with unanimous vohemence that no one raised a hand against carrare till he had stabbed Allen with the ice pick, which they allege that he drew from his clothing.

ALLEN'S RECORD FOR COURAGE. ALLEN'S RECORD FOR COURAGE.

Atten never bore the record of a quarrelsome man, but he was always fearless and bad some redeeming qualities. Once, when an old mowan was knocked down by a Broadway stage, and discovered, after being picked up, that she hadlost 60% her husbands wages, Allen at once counted out that sum from his own pocket into her hand.

When John Stanford had been knocked insensible by a stone bottle in Louis French's

The body of the unknown man who dived nto a sewer manhole at the corner of Third avenue and Twenty-sixth street during the heavy rain-storm Wednesday night, was resovered shortly after 7 o'clock this morning in the basin between the Broadway Brooklyn ferry slip and Allen's grain elevator, at the foot of East Twenty-third street.

The body was towed up to the Bellevue Hospital dock and taken thence to the Morgue, Where at least a dozen persons identified it as that of Thomas Kenny, a brick-handler, thirtyfive years old, formerly in the employ of Canda & Kane. He had been missing since Tuesday night.

The deck hands and loungers at the pier at the foot of East Twenty-third street had been watching the water closely in that vicinhad plunged into one of the sewers. It was generally believed that, despite the searches of Thursday and yesterday by the Sewer Department, the man's body would
